Ouster Course In Bilbo Case To Be Decided

Republicans To Seek Report
Of G. O. P. Member Before Framing Procedure

EVIDENCE IS CLEAR
SAYS SEN. FERGUSON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, said today the Republican steering committee will ask for a report from the GOP representative in the Bilbo war contracts inquiry before deciding the course of ouster action against "the man" from Mississippi.

Taft, steering committee chairman, announced that GOP leaders would call upon Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich., for his opinion of evidence brought against Sen. Theodore G. (The Man) Bilbo (D) Miss. The Bilbo hearings recessed Thursday night.

In advance of a formal report, Ferguson said that evidence presented to the committee strongly indicated Bilbo had violated the 1940 war contracts act. Appearing on Mutual's "Meet the Press" program, Ferguson said:

Evidence Pretty Clear

"I would say that the evidence is pretty clear there was a violation of the law for accepting money from a war contractor. I would have to say now that if my name were called for a vote, I'd vote that he'd not sit in the United States senate."

Taft's statement was made as counsel for the senate war investi-

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Friday's heavy snow gave a real Christmas appearance to the landscape last night, for the first time this season.

Today (if you are not aware) is the shortest day of the year as judged from the amount of daylight. Likewise, tomorrow marks the official start of winter.

Youngsters were having a great time Friday evening, trying out skis, sleds, etc., when the first big snow of the season struck the area.

Yesterday's snow and today's rain will more than likely fill the ice skating pond at Mahoning avenue to the satisfaction of local ice skaters.

Christmas tree at police headquarters in city hall, decorated with holiday ornaments and with vari-colored electric bulbs, was erected yesterday by Police Sergeant Gilmore Smith. It stands in the courtroom lobby.

Ashing crews were kept extremely busy on Friday afternoon. Pa Newc noted about the city. In some areas, it was necessary to return and place a second spread of ashes as the rapidly falling snow made the first spread ineffective.

Boys and girls are keeping their fingers crossed, hoping that the snow which began falling Friday will remain until Christmas to give them that longed for "White Christmas."

Bus patrons were having a difficult time Friday discerning the destination of various city buses. Snow kept the destination signs covered and drivers were forced to call out which bus it was.

After Friday's snow, the barometer fell considerably overnight indicating warmer and somewhat unsettled weather.

Yesterday's snow and slippery roads caused some peculiar accidents. One that Pa Newc viewed

Lack Of Sugar Is Due To Bungling Says Congressman

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Rep. Alvin O'Konski (R) of Wisconsin charged today that America's lack of sugar is the result of New Deal bungling and deliberate machinations by internationalists.

O'Konski, who stopped briefly in Chicago en route to Washington, D. C., said the motive to reduce the American quota to give more to foreign countries.

The Wisconsin legislator asserted that American housewives had to spend extra millions of dollars to buy canned fruits and similar products while more millions of dollars of fruit went to waste because it could not be preserved.

He blamed this condition directly on the shortage of sugar. O'Konski declared:

No Reason for Shortage

"There is no reason in the world for the sugar shortage today in America. In Cuba and other sugar cane and sugar beet raising countries warehouses are bulging with

Governor-Elect Talmadge Dies

Noted Political Figure In Georgia Taken By Death During Night

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 21.—(INS)—Eugene Talmadge, one of the most colorful political figures in Georgia's history, succumbed to a lingering illness early today.

The 62-year-old fiery politician of red-galluses fame died at 7 a.m. this morning.

Physicians had kept an all-night vigil at his bedside, after his condition took a sudden turn for the worse late yesterday.

Dr. Rufus Askew, one of Talmadge's physicians, said Talmadge succumbed without pain.

Talmadge, who was scheduled to take office of governor for the fourth term January 14, lapsed into a semi-conscious condition last night about 10 o'clock. He remained in this condition until about 1:30, when he went into complete unconsciousness and died half an hour later.

Only two physicians in the room with the governor-elect when he succumbed. They were Dr. Askew and Dr. O. E. Hemes.

Members of Talmadge's family were in the hospital, but none was at the bedside when he died. His health began to break during the 40-year-old matron.

The pallid, pimply-faced Sickles related how in a bay hay he removed the adhesive-tape gag from Mrs. Stackhouse. Her hysterical pleas for freedom shattered his courage, and he finally permitted her to go to the farm home of John Mench and telephone her husband, Dr. Stirling Stackhouse Sr.

Another German Doctor Sentenced Gets Death Penalty

FRANKFURT, Dec. 21.—(INS)—An American war crimes court today decreed death for German doctor accused of war-time atrocities, sentenced another to life imprisonment and gave terms of four to eight years to two others.

The court acquitted two additional defendants.

Sentenced to death was Doctor Mennecke, chief defendant in the trial against so-called mercy killers of inmates of the Eichberg asylum.

In summing up the case, the trial judge traced a master plan under which the accused operated which called for annihilation of thousands of persons still able to work merely on the grounds that they were of no use to the Third Reich.

The reason is: UNRRA is poorly administered. This is true certainly from a political standpoint—America has not been credited with the vast part she played in UNRRA.

Carol Singing Programs Will Be Concluded

Welsh Chorus To Sing Tonight On Public Square In Holiday Feature

Old Polish melodies, folk songs that go back so far into history and tradition that the composer's name is forgotten, floated out over the downtown section Friday night when the choir of the St. Phillip and James church presented the municipal Christmas concert, the fourth in the series.

The mixed chorus was well-trained and under the direction of Miss Marie Dutkiewicz, the church chorister, presented a half-hour of delightful music. Despite the weather, many people were on the streets and the songs could be heard all over the downtown section.

Tonight's concert at 8 o'clock from the steps of the Federal building closes the series of Christmas concerts by the Merchant's division of the Greater New Castle association.

The chorus tonight will be the Cymorionians, directed by John M. Evans with Mrs. Evans at the piano. Old Welsh airs will be sung, part of the program will be in English, and the chorus will close its numbers with several of the better known Christmas carols.

UNITED NATIONS VACATION STARTS

LAKE SUCCESS, Dec. 21.—(INS)—The United Nations today started its Christmas vacation.

It will end December 26 for some of the secretaries when the committee meetings on atom bombs resume deliberation.

Travis Lie, secretary general, the 2,700 members of the secretariat yesterday for their work during the general assembly meeting and wounding them a happy holiday.

Lie said: "All of us may derive great satisfaction in having participated as to what is universally regarded as a very successful general assembly."

Lawrence county residents experienced almost every kind of weather except a tornado, and electrical storm during the past 24 hours.

Their commander-in-chief reminded them that "there is still much to be done" in the struggle to shape the events of today and tomorrow toward a just and lasting peace for all peoples in all countries.

Snow started falling shortly before noon yesterday, and came down so heavily that the ashing of the hill streets proved almost useless as the snow covered it up within a short period of time. Motorists without chains, and particularly those with smooth tires, soon had the hillsides cluttered with stalled cars.

BIG DEMAND FOR CHAINS

There was a tremendous rush on stores, garages and service stations to buy chains, or, on the part of those who already had them, to have them attached.

Then early in the evening it rained a little, followed by temperatures just under the freezing mark.

Report Says Quake Worse Than Record Tokyo Shock Of 1923

(By HOWARD HANDLEMAN)
INS Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Dec. 21.—One of the heaviest earthquakes in history sent a seven-foot tidal wave crashing over a wide stretch of central Japan today and dealt death to thousands of persons.

Incomplete reports from the devastated areas indicated the death toll might go as high as four thousand. First semi-official reports placed the number of dead on Honshu and Shikoku islands at more than one thousand.

One unconfirmed report to Allied headquarters in Tokyo said three thousand persons perished on Awaji Island alone when the tidal wave churned into the mouth of the Inland Sea.

U. S. army fighter planes reported that the fishing village of Kushimoto with a population of ten thousand was completely inundated. The Kushimoto radio was ominously silent hours after the quake and efforts to communicate with Awaji were also fruitless.

Added Terror Of Fire

The added terror of fire struck in the wake of the receding waters and the east coast Honshu, city of Shingu—with a population of thirty-two thousand—was reported wrapped entirely in flames.

Fourteen hours after the seaborne disaster struck, the Kyodo news agency reported five hundred confirmed deaths and more than six hundred persons injured.

The agency said its admittedly incomplete report showed 13,544 homes destroyed or damaged, 22,278 homes flooded and 1,400 fishing vessels swept away.

The disaster zones on central Honshu and Shikoku embrace the cities of Nagoya, Osaka, Kobe and Kochi, the latter probably the hardest hit by both the terrifying quake and the oceanic upheaval.

The Tokyo meteorological observatory reported the earthquake was the strongest in the history of Japan and more powerful than the 1923 quake which left 100,000 persons dead in the Tokyo-Yokohama area.

Huge Wall Of Water

The quake struck at 4:20 a.m. followed within ten or fifteen minutes by a miles-long wall of water that crashed inland with terrific impact from the shores of Honshu, Shikoku and adjacent smaller islands.

Hundreds of homes were crushed, washed away or inundated in a few minutes by the churning seven-foot wave. Railroad bridges and tunnels were demolished

Providing there is sufficient snow, the City Recreation commission's sledding program will begin Monday at 6:30 p. m. and continue until 9 p. m. Sledding nights this winter have been designated for those hours on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week. Motor vehicles operators are requested not to use the officially designated sled-lanes, because they are closed to traffic during the hours stated. Arthur Alexander will be in charge of the sledding program. There will be guards to help protect the kids.

Mr. Alexander stated that if any motorist runs through a barrier, he may expect to have his license noted. He will be summoned to appear before Mayor John F. Haven. He said that warning lanterns will be placed, denoting that children are sledding.

Authorized Streets

Only thoroughfares named in the following will be authorized sled-lanes. Sledding should not occur on other thoroughfares because they will not be "protected routes."

The official lanes are: Conn street, between Harbor street and Sampson street; Madison avenue, between Second street and Lafayette street; Smithfield street, between Borough Line street and West Washington street.

Reynolds street, between Cunningham avenue and Pollock avenue; Division street, between Cunningham avenue and South Mill street.

Delaware avenue, between Moody avenue and Park avenue; Leisure avenue, between Mercer street and Wilmington avenue.

There was a floor show, an excellent one, and of course a few speeches.

About the Horse

But about the Tennessee walking horse presented to President W. Keith McAfee, Mr. McAfee came to the Universal 25 years ago when a strong heart and a good head were needed. From that time on the Universal has increased in production, personnel and efficiency and at the dinner Lawrence I. MacQueen of Pittsburgh, a director of the company, paid tribute to the quarter century of leadership. "Mr. McAfee has carried a load for many years," said Mr. MacQueen, "and tonight we thought it would be fitting if we gave him something which would carry him now and then. We are therefore presenting him with a thoroughbred Tennessee walking horse, Royal Stroller R. As a token we are presenting him with this hobby horse." A hobby horse was then unwrapped and presented to Mr. McAfee. The thoroughbred will be shipped later from Tennessee to Mr. McAfee's home in Redlands, Calif.

Reviews History

Mr. McAfee expressed his appreciation for the horse, and later told of some of the earlier struggles of the company, now a concern with a plant in New Castle, Camden N. J., and Redlands, Calif. For the coming year he prophesied good times "if all of us keep our heads."

Clyde M. Whittaker, vice president of the Universal, was the toastmaster of evening and called upon Vice President Ray G. Caruthers, Manufacturing Manager George E. Crawford, Plant Manager Don M. Staley and Daniel Hughes, an officer of Local 133, who represented President Rhymier Moffatt in joining with Mr. McAfee in a pledge to fair dealing and honest production throughout the coming year.

During the program the officers of the Universal Athletic Association were inducted into service. They are President William Frenzel, Vice President Tony Parratt, Secretary Joseph Malandro and Treasurer Al Frey, and Directors Mickey Huff, Peter Razzano and Carl Klingensmith.

Testimonial watches and 25-year pins were presented to the following employees: President W. Keith McAfee, W. W. Wallace, John Melchert, Ralph Lutton, Joseph Lidak, Thomas Francis, Harry Evans, Marcello Danicic, Nick Carran, Paul Beynon, Emidio Bernardi and George Anthony.

Greetings were brought from the employees of the Redlands, Calif., plant to the employees of the New Castle plant by President McAfee.

The evening was opened with one verse of "America" directed by George Anthony and the invocation by William Bowman.

A one hour show was enjoyed, solos, dancing, humor and old fashioned barber shop quartet providing some nostalgic melodies. The group joined with the floor show in singing Christmas carols. During the meal Bill Earl, the "Piano Trickster" played for group singing and put on some musical shenanigans himself. The entertainment was in charge of G. Ward Whittaker.

Fourteen Prefectures Affected

Japan's Kyodo news agency reported a total of fourteen prefectures affected by either the quake or the tidal wave or both.

These were Gifu, Kochi, Kagawa, Shiga, Hyogo, Shizuoka, Oita, Tokushima, Takayama, Mie, Okayama, Aichi, Osaka and Nara.

The agency's first reports listed 861 persons dead, injured or missing, 23,167 houses destroyed, inundated or washed away, 785 buildings destroyed or damaged and 110 factories demolished or damaged.

All communications throughout central Japan and on Shikoku Island were knocked out by the quake. Army officials estimated it will require two days to restore full communications with all areas.

Still fragmentary reports reaching Tokyo via temporary communications indicated heavy loss of life among Japanese but did not mention any death among Allied military or civilian personnel.

British authorities in Tokyo reported one man missing from his home on Shikoku and British occupation base buildings damaged.

Walker also confessed to shooting Detectives C. C. Forbes and Stanley W. Johnson last April when he boasted his way out of a trap they had set in connection with a $60,000 radio equipment theft.

"It's too bad you guys didn't kill me because I know what I have to face," police quoted Walker as saying following his confession.

reached some of the devastated areas by early afternoon.

Teams already in the field were prepared to supply survivors with clothing and medicine from stockpiles widely scattered throughout Japan for such emergencies.

Col. C. F. Sams, headquarters public health and welfare chief, said some teams were unable to reach Awaji, where three thousand persons were reported killed by the crushing tidal wave.

Death Toll Of 233 Reported

First reports from the few relief teams already in the damage zones but far from the worst hit areas confirmed a death toll of 233 persons.

Dancing continued until midnight, an hour later than usual. For the occasion, the floor was decorated with Christmas greens and ornaments.

Communications with most of the affected areas were still haphazard or non-existent at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, nearly 12 hours after the first earth shock.

U. S. Twenty-fifth Division Artillery planes unable to land in stricken areas, were sweeping low in attempts to ascertain casualties and spot the worst stricken areas for relief agencies.

Another Army report said at least two hundred families were "wiped out" at Kochi, Shikoku Island metropolis of nearly one hundred thousand population.

Reports from Kochi, however, were still sketchy and the city is believed to have suffered heavily since it lies near the sea in Shikoku's lowlands.

east—advancing the cause of communism in the continental countries of Europe.

U. S. Zone Is Haven

We are feeding 450,000 displaced persons in Germany and nearly 250,000 others in Austria. The number is increasing every day because of the broadened definition of "persecute" to "refugee". These people are coming into the American zones from other zones as to a haven, but many of them never were persecuted persons. It is not fair to the American taxpayers to have to feed all these people who give nothing in return.

They should be given work to do to pay for their keep. Now they are living off the fat of our land.

There are farms to be worked, factories to be staffed and a lot of other things that could be done. They could clean up Berlin and Frankfurt.

The big question in Europe is—what is to be done with these people? Shall we continue to feed them just through the winter or until they are resettled? I want to reserve my opinion on this until we get complete data, but until a determination is made by congress, I believe that all able-bodied persons ought to work and earn their food as salary.

Two lifelong residents of Shenango township will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday, December 24. They are Mr. and Mrs. John Baker of Wampum, R. D. 1, the New Castle-Wampum road.

On Tuesday, they will receive friends and relatives at home during the day followed at 6 o'clock on Christmas eve by a family turkey dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker were married in Youngstown, O., December 24, 1896, by the late Rev. Calvin at his home in Youngstown. Before her marriage, Mrs. Baker was Anna Pearl Shaffer.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker and all their four children are active in gospel and mission work. Their son, Rev. Samuel C. Baker, is pastor of the Clifton Flats mission, and a licensed airplane pilot, and another son, Earl J. Baker is a gospel singer.

Two daughters, Mrs. Domer Sankey, May Baker, and Mrs. Edward Garver, nee Margaret Baker, both residents of this city, are also active at the mission where the former teaches a class and the latter is pianist. Mrs. Baker, too, teaches a class at the mission. She has taught Sunday school classes for the past 40 years.

The couple have nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Final plans were made for the holiday party to honor husbands, scheduled January 12 at the Sons of Italy club, with Mrs. Anthony Bullano, Mrs. Clotilda Ross and Mrs. Domenick Cecil as the committee.

The table was nicely decorated and Santa Claus, in the person of Mrs. Anthony Scopio, distributed gifts.

A dainty lunch was enjoyed, hosted by Mrs. Anthony Bullano, Mrs. James Copple, Mrs. Angelo Sands, Mrs. Charles Petrucci and Mrs. Carl Richards.

January 16 is the next meeting.

ITALIAN MOTHERS CLUB YULE PARTY

Italian Mothers club met in the green room, Y.M.C.A., Thursday evening, where they enjoyed a Christmas party, starting with the singing of carols. Mrs. Dorothy First was pianist.

Later a dainty lunch was served by candlelight, and Mrs. Alice Fusco, president opened with a prayer. She also favored with vocal selections.

The tables were nicely arranged. Included on the program was a poem, "Tony's Poem," recited by Mrs. Eddie Bryan, and supervisor, Mary Tabic spoke to the group. Special guest attending was Mrs. Mary Dutko, an Italian war bride, Mrs. Bryan, and Miss Tabic.

Santa Claus was Mrs. Jennie Cialella, and she distributed gifts. Games were played, prizes going to Mrs. Rose DeDario and Mrs. Elizabeth Peluso.

Chairman of the event was Mrs. Rose DeDario, and committee, January 3, is the next meeting.

WILLING WORKERS CHRISTMAS PARTY

Mrs. Griff Thomas of 107 Park avenue, was hostess to the Willing Workers Bible class of the First Congregational church, at their Christmas party on Thursday evening.

WASHINGTON CALLING by MARQUIS CHILDS

Broad Trade Pact Seen As Real Need

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The State department negotiators who helped to frame the outline of the proposed international trade organization have just returned from London. They brought with them a fat document which will promptly be put away in a State department safe.

There are several high hurdles to get over before the new organization can be approved. There are skeptics on both sides of the Atlantic who believe that the project will never get beyond the stage of a hopeful dream. And among these skeptics are both Britishers and Americans who hope that the proposal will be stillborn.

Prejudices Strong

On both sides the old suspicions and prejudices are strong. Before the British will sign on the dotted line, they want definite proof of our intentions to lower tariffs and remove other barriers that now stand in the way of our trade with the rest of the world.

That is why a showdown conference has been set for April in Geneva, Switzerland. That conference will give representatives of all nations participating a chance to work out bilateral trade agreements within the frame work of the proposed organization.

In other words, the United States will be told at Geneva to put up or shut up. Either we make broad trade and tariff concessions of the British, the Canadians and the others will not go along with our idea of a world trade organization.

Too Fraid Support

Above all, the British want to know whether we mean what we say when we talk about freeing the channels of world trade. In England, there is an influential group both within and without the Labor government, that regards the proposed ITO as too frail a support to lean on. They favor setting up something like the prewar system of empire preference. They will be watching the results of the Geneva conference with their fingers crossed.

Long before the Geneva meeting, the Senate will hold hearings on the proposed organization. These hearings are certain to be a sounding board for American interests unalterably opposed to trade concessions by this country.

Same Arguments

Representatives of the dairy industry and of the wool growers are preparing the same arguments they have used in the past. There is nothing to show that they have receded a single inch from their adamant opposition to any imports whatsoever, even imports of products that cannot be duplicated in this country.

They have been very successful in the past. Imports of wool and every kind of woolen goods, including the hand-woven tweeds from Scotland and Ireland that we do not duplicate here, were never more than 5 per cent of our total consumption of wool. Imports of cheese have never been more than 1 or 2 per cent of total consumption.

Fix Prices

In many fields, trade associations tend to fix the price that the consumer pays. With a more or less camouflaged price monopoly in this country, they do not want competition from abroad.

At the preliminary conference in London, complaints were directed not merely at our tariff barriers but at less obvious restrictions on the movement of trade. The Canadians, for example, complained of the way in which the American customs laws are administered.

The law is interpreted to require customs officials to collect the last penny for the treasury. This makes for pettifogging delays for handling and bickering which holds up transactions by large and small.

It has served to create one of the stanchest, stiffest bureaucracies in government.

Red Tape Binders

Thus a man who orders his suits tailored in London finds an infinity of red tape in getting his new suit out of the customs house. The same red tape stands in the way of the importer who orders a ship load of fine Birmingham cutlery.

Unless we are to shut ourselves off as a walled island, we must buy from the other nations. The time is coming when we shall have surpluses to sell. Of one thing we can be sure. That is that the rest of the world will put up barriers against the products of our factories and fields if we do not set an example for reciprocal trade.

That was the goal toward which the venerable Cordell Hull worked with such zeal and conviction. The goal is even more important today than it was ten years ago.

What People Say

LONDON—Ernest Bevin, British foreign secretary, reports unofficially on the big four council: "I feel more hopeful than I have since I have been foreign secretary. I can see greater understanding coming from the weeks in New York, and am very hopeful."

WASHINGTON—Sen. Kenneth Wherry (D), Nebr., blasts UNRRA distribution in Russia: "Old and disabled people don't get foods under Russian distribution. They go to people useful to Russia, as determined by a Soviet-appointed burgomaster on a basis of collaboration."

BOSTON—Alfred P. Sloan, chairman of General Motors: "The idea that a wage increase is justified soundly by an increase in living costs is an economic absurdity. Such a policy can only result—and as a matter of fact, is resulting—in an unending spiral of increasing wages and prices."

Raoul probably was the only man in the world not effected by the depression. He had no job to lose or wages to be cut.

About six-and-a-half years ago Raoul was roused from his reverie by a terrific commotion outside. But he didn't bother to look out the window. After all, it was only the Battle of Abbeville.

Raoul also said he wanted leisure to think things over—though, if you ask us, there wasn't much to think about in 1928.

In 1928 prosperity wasn't around the corner—it was in everybody's lap and opportunity was trying to kick the door down.

The average U. S. citizen in that golden year had but two worries:

1—Should he sell now or hold out for another 25-point profit? 2—How to reduce to a minimum the sediment in his bottle of homebrew.

SHOWDOWN IN POTTSDOWN CASE NOW DEMANDED

POTTSDOWN, Pa., Dec. 21—(INS)—A showdown was demanded by a Pottstown borough official today in the strangling of attractive Mrs. Miriam Green, 28-year-old divorcee.

The official, Herbert M. Myers, chairman of the community's Civil Service commission, demanded a "full report of every detail of the crime".

Myers said he was asking for the report because of rumors that investigators allegedly were "shielding" possible suspects.

Mrs. Green was found strangled to death in her Pottstown apartment 11 days ago. No arrests have been made.

Burgess William Griffith lost little time in accepting Myers' challenge. He called a meeting for this afternoon of borough and police officials at which the entire matter will be aired.

The woman, an attractive blonde, was found slain in her apartment only a week after her divorce became final.

More than 20 persons have been questioned by detectives in connection with the crime.

Meanwhile the investigation shifted to Philadelphia as probes sought to trace where a blue scarf used to strangle Mrs. Green had been purchased.

Wholesale houses and retail stores were being canvassed, but it appeared a fruitless search.

Wage Drive Starts With Demands By Aluminum Workers

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21—(INS)—The CIO-United Steelworkers' 1947 wage drive was officially underway today following a two-hour meeting in Pittsburgh yesterday with representatives of the Aluminum Company of America at which a "substantial" pay hike for 20,000 workers was asked.

The action was the opening wedge in the steelworkers' wage-policy program and followed closely CIO President Philip Murray's assertion that no specific figure would be asked of industry.

The company was expected to reply to the USW demands January 6 when actual negotiations get underway. At that time, union and company will also take up study of port-to-portal pay, guaranteed annual wage, social insurance, and other issues.

The Alcoa demands were made for workers in mines and plants at New Kensington, Pa.; Edgewater, N. J.; Garwood, N. J.; Alcoa, Tenn.; Mobile, Ala.; Bauxite, Ark.; Badin, N. C., and Bridgeport, Conn.

The steelworkers' union will formally open its major wage battle with the basic steel industry January 15. The outcome of negotiations with basic steel was expected to set the pace for a national wage pattern.

"PRAYED DOWN" REVIVALS

The day of Heaven-sent-soul-touching revivals are not gone. For the past two weeks at the BIBLE MISSION we have seen God's wonderful, miraculous, Saving and Sanctifying power manifested just as it happened in the days of Wesley, Redfield, and Finney. Some folk wanted Sanctification (deliverance from in-bred sin) so bad that even the adverse weather failed to keep them away. If you like to fellowship with folk who really enjoy "Second Blessing Holiness" you are invited to attend the Special Holiness meetings conducted every Sunday afternoon at 2:45. Various speakers from the Holiness churches will be heard each Sunday. A testimony and praise service will be included, so if you have the FIRE! be sure to come. Rev. J. M. Hommer, pastor (Brethren in Christ Church).

We specialize in teaching holiness of heart and life.

START PROBE OF MYSTERY BLAST DOWN IN MINE

Coaldale, Pa., Dec. 21.—(INS)—Mine officials began investigating today to determine the cause of a mysterious explosion 1000 feet below the ground at the Coaldale colliery of the Lehigh Navigation and Coal Co.

Four miners were injured critically in the blast which clogged mine tunnels with splintered pilings and immense chunks of fallen coal.

Rescue parties worked feverishly for two hours before breaking through the wreckage to remove the victims.

Besides the four miners who were seriously injured, numerous other diggers were tossed about by the blast but unhurt.

Some miners said they believed the explosion was touched off either by dynamite or liquid gas.

Rushed to Coaldale State hospital with severe internal and external injuries were Edward Butts and John Michalko, of Coaldale; Michael Contradey, of McAdoo, and Joseph Dobrosky, of Lansford.

Hospital physicians said none of the victims were burned.

Hints On Etiquette

When you talk over the telephone, be sure not to let your attention stray while the other party is talking. This is most discourteous. Be just as attentive to what is being said, or even more so, than if you were talking with him face to face.

U.B. Church Program On Sunday Evening

A Christmas program will be given Sunday evening beginning at 7:30 at the First United Brethren church, 12 North Crawford avenue.

The program will consist of recitations, dialogues, exercises and carols and will be given by the young people and Junior department of the Sunday school under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Dale and the teachers of the department.

Gen. McNarney told a news conference:

"Reports that German soldiers returning from American and British prisoner of war camps to their homes in the Soviet zone are being rounded up by the Russians for labor in Siberia are of concern to the military government because it would be contrary to American policy."

He stated that if the reports prove accurate he would raise the issue in the allied control council for quadripartite discussion.

McNarney revealed that the council had ordered a subcommittee to compile a report on the German situation up to next January 10 for the forthcoming meeting of the big four council of foreign ministers in Moscow next March.

CHRISTMAS DAY! "GALLANT BESS"

Swedish Cookies, Albanian Cakes Add To Holiday Food List

Keeping as close as they can to the celebration they were accustomed to in Sweden, many of the Swedish people of New Castle start their Christmas preparations the first of December, and by Christmas Eve they have everything in order.

Fish For Dinner

Mrs. John Swanson, of Albert street is one of the local women who retain as much of their homeland custom as possible, even to ordering the "lutfish" for Christmas Eve dinner.

New Castle Swedish people have to send away for this fish, which comes dried and as hard as a board. After being broken up, and soaked in brine for several days, it becomes soft and tender, and when cooked is served with either a cream sauce or a mustard sauce.

In Sweden, says Mrs. Swanson, the Christmas Eve fast begins at noon, and at three o'clock all work must be finished. Church bells chime out at four o'clock, and the Christmas tree stands all trimmed for the festivity. Straw and grain nuts are tied around a pole for the birds, and the family's gifts are exchanged before the devotions on Christmas Eve.

Rice Pudding, Too

Along with the lutfish goes the rice pudding, which is a customary holiday dish in so many European countries. Swedish people however, distinguish their dinner by their famous Swedish smorgasbord of cold meats, cheeses, puddings, casseroles of potatoes cooked in different ways, macaroni, relishes, and pickles and fancy cakes. Incidentally, a few alms are always placed in the Christmas rice pudding, and the first unmarried person who finds one is supposed to be next in line for a wedding.

About 15 different sorts of cakes and rolls are served with coffee at eleven o'clock Christmas Eve, and at midnight the family goes to bed so that they can get up early enough for church on Christmas morning. As in Finland, the trip is made by sleigh, and candles are in the windows of all the houses along the way.

Christmas day, itself, is quiet, but afterwards gay parties and crowds of visitors put a strain on the best-stocked larders, for no one ever leaves a Swedish home without being offered food.

Spirits Recipe

One of the many cakes which Mrs. Swanson is baking this season is "spirits", for which you need a spritiform, or one of those little pastry tubes with which you can squeeze the dough out into what ever shape you desire. The recipe calls for:

2 cups of flour
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 egg yolks
1 whole egg
½ lb. butter
1 teaspoon almond flavoring

Mix the ingredients together and

Family Of Witness In Murder Case Reported Missing

Police In Nation-Wide Hunt For Trace Of Family Of New York Case Witness

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Police revealed today that the family of a material witness in the election-day slaying of Joseph Scottriglio, Republican poll captain, has vanished without a trace.

Missing from their luxurious East Harlem apartment are Mrs. Doris Coppola, her baby, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Lehmann and their Negro maid. They have been missing for five weeks while police conducted a nationwide search.

Mrs. Coppola is the wife of "Trigger Mike" Coppola, held with Joey Rao in $250,000 bail as material witnesses in the Scottorriglio slaying. Scottorriglio was election captain for the opponent of Rep. Vito Marcantonio.

Police said they went to the Coppola apartment after arresting Coppola to question his wife. They found the place deserted and immediately began the search that already had led as far away as Florida without revealing a trace of the missing family.

Christmas 'Greeting' Extended By Mayor

Mayor John F. Haven today extended a Christmas "greetings" to two young men who became involved in a fist fight last night in an East Washington street restaurant. After hearing both testify, he admonished them against free exhibitions of brawling and advised them to stage their next bout outside the city, then said:

"This is Christmas season and no doubt both need $10 cash bond; therefore I'm returning the money and discharging both."

The young men who expected to pay a fine left the police courtroom wearing smiles.

SENATOR TAFT TO MAKE CHOICE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Senator Taft (R) Ohio said he will choose today between chairmanship of the Senate Labor or Finance committee.

It was considered virtually certain that Taft will tell the GOP committee on committees that he wants to head the group which will frame all-important legislation to revamp the nation's labor policy.

The committee is nearing completion of its list, which will be subject to approval of the Republican conference December 30. With the streamlining act cutting the available chairmanships, the list is certain to run into at least some dissatisfaction.

Finds 8,567 Not Voting In 2 Years

Large Number Of County Residents Must Reregister To Stay On Rolls

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Lawrence county has just set a new record of which no one can be proud. A Lewis Conn, chief clerk of the Permanent Registration Bureau, has completed withdrawing the names of voters who have not voted in the two years last passed, and the total is amazing.

Out of a total registration of 41,836, 8,567 voters did not vote in the past two years and for the time at least are disfranchised. They can be reinstated by filling out the card which accompanies their notice of withdrawal from the registry lists or later they can register again.

Of the 8,567, 3,825 are from the county districts outside the city and 4,742 are in the city. In other words, nearly 21 per cent of all the voters registered failed to exercise their franchise in four elections, two primaries and two general elections. Withdrawing all these names brings the total registration down to slightly more than 33,000 in a county of 100,000 or more people.

INDEXING SERVICE RECORDS

A job that will require considerable time has been started in the office of A. Lewis Conn. A card index record of every discharge that has been recorded in the office of the register and recorder is being prepared. When completed there will be an efficient card index record of servicemen and women who have had their discharges recorded.

The job means about 8,500 cards to fill out. There are still hundreds of Lawrence county servicemen and women who have been discharged who have never had their discharges recorded. It should be done.

President For Universal Training For Nation's Youth

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(G. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—President Truman declared Friday that universal training for the nation's youth is the best way in which the United States can maintain its defenses against further aggression in the world.

The chief executive made an appeal for a universal training program to his new advisory commission of civilians on universal training.

The group, just announced late Thursday, held its first meeting with the president at the White House Friday, naming Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, as chairman.

Universal Training

Mr. Truman told his advisers, who are to study the nation's needs on the future training of its youth, that he wants to see the country adopt a universal training program distinctive from a purely universal military training program.

The president said his two principal concerns today "are peace in the world and production at home."

He asserted the United States covets no territory abroad.

The president outlined his hopes for universal training in this manner:

"I want our young people to be informed on what this government is, what it stands for—its responsibilities."

"And I think the best way to do this is through a universal training program."

Not Military Alone

"I don't like to think of it as a universal military training program, giving our young people a background in the disciplinary approach of getting along with one another, informing them of their physical make-up, and what it means to take care of this temple which God gave us."

"If we get that instilled into them, and then instill into them a responsibility which begins in the township, in the city ward, the first thing you know we will have sold our republic to the coming generations as Madison and Hamilton and Jefferson sold it in the first place."

"The modern nation no longer depends solely on the army and navy for its protection. Any difficulty in which it is necessary for the army and navy to fight, involves the whole country."

More Killed Behind Lines

"It is a total war these days. More people were killed behind the lines in enemy countries, and in friendly countries, than were killed on the battlefronts."

The president told the advisory commission that in considering a program of universal training for the nation's youth, he wanted the word "military" left out. He said:

"The military phase is incidental to what I have in mind."

Mr. Truman said that records of the draft boards showed that almost 30 per cent of the young people called up for military service were physically or mentally unfit. He said:

"That is a terrible reflection on a free country."

"I have been interested in the physical development and the mental and moral development of young people ever since I was graduated from high school. I have been somewhat of a student of history, and I have discovered that great republics of the past always passed away out when their peoples became prosperous and fat and lazy, and were not willing to assume their responsibilities."

BUY LIVING TREE FOR TRANSPLANTING

Christmas comes but once a year, although the remembrance of it lingers on, especially if there is a permanent reminder of the occasion as for instance—a living Christmas tree.

Interested in living Christmas trees more than anyone else may be the families who have moved into new homes, and those who are doing-over their ornamental planting program.

Trees of suitable varieties planted in wooden tubs, can be kept indoors during the holiday season. When they are removed, placing them in a cool section of the cellar for a few days will help harden them for the outdoors. Leave them in the tubs and place them in a sheltered section of the grounds until spring planting time when they can be removed from the containers and set in permanent locations. Keep the trees well watered while indoors.

The Baldwin, Douglas and Nordmann firs are most generally selected for use as potted Christmas trees and for subsequent transplanting. The Colorado Blue Spruce is another favorite, and in some sections the red cedar does very well for these purposes.

If we get that instilled into them, and then instill into them a responsibility which begins in the township, in the city ward, the first thing you know we will have sold our republic to the coming generations as Madison and Hamilton and Jefferson sold it in the first place."

"The modern nation no longer depends solely on the army and navy for its protection. Any difficulty in which it is necessary for

No Time To Speed Autos, Hanna Says

This is Christmas shopping time. Many people, young and old alike are shopping and this is no time for any motorist to speed or operate a motor vehicle recklessly," Police Chief Robert D. Hanna stated today. He said he had placed all police cruisers in operation to prevent all possible accidents. He warned, too, that if anyone were caught speeding or driving recklessly the operator would be arrested.

Training Plan Costs Fraction Of Actual War

Years Expense $125,000,000
Less Than One And One-Half Days Of Warfare

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Official data released today estimated that the annual cost of universal military training would be 125 million dollars less than the expense of one and one-half days of war.

Disclosures of these statistics was timed with a meeting scheduled for 10 a. m. EST of President Truman's advisory commission on universal military training with the chief executive.

It coincided with estimates by military authorities that had universal military training been in operation before World War II the conflict would have been shortened by one year, saving about 90 billion dollars.

Data made public showed that the daily cost of World War II in 1945 was three-quarters of a billion dollars. The entire universal military training program is estimated to cost one billion dollars a year.

World War II cost the United States 330 billion dollars and 1,235,000 casualties up to Nov. 30 of this year.

In 1945 alone war costs mounted to 90 billion dollars—seven and one-third billions monthly, one and one-third billions a week.

Represent All Fields

The nine-member commission includes representatives of industry, labor, the church, school and science. Scheduled to confer with the president were:

Former Ambassador Joseph E. Davies, Dr. Daniel Poling of Boston, Protestant leader; Samuel L. Rosenman, former counsel to the president; Dr. Karl T. Compton, presi-

Charles E. Wilson, president of General Electric; T. K. Gibson, Jr., Chicago, Negro advisor to the secretary of war; H. W. Dodds, president of Princeton university; Rev. E. J. Walsh, Georgetown university and Anna Rosenberg, New York City, prominent labor leader.

Appointment of the civilian commission followed assertions by high military leaders that without universal military training the United States would be unable to repel any future possible surprise attack.

The military men maintained that such training is required to replenish the national pool of trained manpower, specifically rebuilding the National Guard and the organized reserve corps.

Don't Drive Unless It's Necessary Says Road Superintendent

Advising drivers to stay off the highways unless it is necessary to drive in the country, highway superintendent Fred Martin reports that cinder trucks have been out since noon Friday, and that the snow plow has been at work since 4:30 Friday afternoon.

Continuing snow made re-cinderizing necessary in a number of places, but the higher temperature and slight rainfall early today was improving the roads, Mr. Martin said. A sudden freeze would still make the highways dangerously iced, however.

For those who must drive, the superintendent advises using chains.

Buses are leaving and arriving in New Castle on time today, after getting somewhat off schedule during the night.

Wins $625,000 In Argentina Lottery

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 21.—(INS)—They don't have "white Christmases" in Buenos Aires but Ernesto Lubbo cheerfully settled for a gold one today.

Lubbo, a bank employee who has to piece out his meager earnings as a radio advertising salesman, on Thursday anticipated a gloomy Christmas.

While working in the bank a heavy gold bar fell on his foot and fractured it.

But there was a delayed action fuse to the deal handed him by fate.

While nursing his injury he was informed he had won first prize of $625,000 in Argentina's Christmas lottery.

Other winners were a policeman, an Abyssinian business man, a seamstress and Aquiles Alberto de Sensi, a Brazilian tourist who arrived in Buenos Aires only Thursday.

De Sensi, who assisted at the lottery drawing, fainted when his number was called.

Grove City Fire Chief Resigns

GROVE CITY, Dec. 21.—A complete reorganization of the local fire department was launched following the resignation of William R. Hornsman, fire chief since 1933, and member of the department 48 years.

John Cookson, member of the department, was appointed chief by borough council, and Milton McLaughlin was appointed fire marshal. Personnel of the department will be increased to a maximum of 40 members from the present 15, and all members must pass physical examinations and complete with satisfactory grade, courses to be conducted by Mr. McLaughlin. All firemen will serve without pay.

Mr. McLaughlin is a veteran of World War II, in which he served as a fire-fighting specialist.

The retiring chief, Mr. Hornsman, served with the volunteer department before the turn of the century and is a charter member of the present organization, formed in 1904.

Report To Be Made
On Talks About
Affairs In Greece

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—The State department today was expected to issue a communique outlining the results of talks held between top government officials and Greek Premier Constantine Tsaldaris.

Inform sources said that Tsaldaris had been assured of reasonable economic aid eventually. Relief also was promised to the extent that Congress will authorize an appropriation. He reported was refused political or military aid, which it had been said he was prepared to ask.

The communique was expected to set at rest repeatedly circulated rumors that the United States planned to land American troops in Greece. These rumors were said to be based partly on the desire by the present Greek government to have U. S. troops replace British forces now in the country.

New Castle High "Whiz Kids" Defeat Arnold 33-26

Black Is Again Scoring Star As New Castle Wins

Coach Bill Douglass Sees "Whiz Kids" Come From Behind Again To Win

JOHNSTOWN NEXT FOR HIGH FLIPPERS

(Special to The News)

NEW KENSINGTON, Dec. 21.—You can't lick anybody that refuses to be licked, and that's exactly what the Bill Douglass coached New Castle High "Whiz Kids" were like here last night, at the local high court, as they came from behind after three slow periods, and whipped a good Arnold High quintet, 33 to 26, to register their fourth win of the pre-league season.

Trailing at the first period 9 to 3 the "Kids" never quite trying. At halftime it was 16 to 11, Arnold and the "Kids" were still in there pitching. It was the same story at the end of the third period, only this time New Castle trailed by a lone point 21 to 20. Don Black broke loose again in the third stanza and had seven points on three field goals and a foul, putting the New Castles right smack back into the ball game.

Garrison Finish

New Castle began pulling away in the fourth period, led by Black again and with Arnold finding the Douglass defense too tough to crack. It was apparent to all, that the visitors had too much on the ball for the neighboring Arnolds.

So tight a defense did the New Castle "Whiz Kids" put up, that not an Arnold player scored a field goal in the entire second half of the battle, after flipping six in the first half. New Castle had 11 field goals and really should have had more, missing many shots that should have found their mark.

New Castle Scrappy

New Castle outscored Arnold two to one or 12 to 6 in points the final period and that together with that air-tight defense just about tells the story. New Castle had the scrappiest team that has been seen on the New Kensington floor in many a moon.

Defensive standouts on the New Castle team were Don Waters, Tony Gribble and Chuck Rea, this trio keeping an eagle eye on the Arnolds all night. Gribble also played a fine game at guard, getting four points. Waters had five, sending three fouls through the hoops in three efforts.

Good on Fouls

In fact New Castle had 11 out of 15 fouls for a team, a very creditable showing on the charity lanes. The Arnold team had 14 out of 34 not too good a percentage.

Pantozzi led the Arnolds in the scoring column with 10 points, on two fielders and six fouls.

New Castle will play Johnstown High next at the Flood City floor Friday, December 27, and are billed at Altoona, Saturday, December 28.

Ray Robinson Captures Title

Decisions Bell Who Boxed Here In 15 Rounds Welterweight Bout

BOTH-FLOORED DURING FIGHT

By DAVIS J. WALSH (International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Quick, slick Ray Robinson, alias the man who knows no flat, was the duly established champion of the welterweight world today—by the grace of three ticks of the second-hand and an opponent who picked a crisis to go glove-happy.

The Harlem hotshot ascended the empty championship dais by a unanimous decision over Tommy Bell, of Youngstown, after 15 rounds of organized violence at Madison Square Garden last night.

But the unanimity did not extend itself to the 15,670 paying guests, clinging faithfully to the memory of Robinson who barely groped his way back to reason, and his feet, out of a fog of a 7 count knockout. Nor could they wholly forget that caprice, rather than craft of hand and eye, let him survive.

His knees were hinges, his eyes a couple of blanks. And with almost two minutes left on the clock, fame and sudden riches waivered in open invitation before the elated but incredulous Bell.

It was too much for a guy who had been 5-1 in the odds and was presumed to have taken the match only because Junior needed a winter recie, and mama a cabriolet.

Sugar Score Knockdown

Apparently, he couldn't miss an opponent who could only stand with sprawled legs and duck by dead reckoning. But he did. In the crisis, he went emotionally wire-haired—throwing left hands that were high and rights that were short, until the bell sounded and an episode was closed.

So to all practical purpose, was Bell's great chance to take the championship in a form companion that would have left reason tottering ever so slightly on its pedestal.

Comes in Fame, Riches

As it was, Robinson had to come on from away behind a four-round deficit in the scorebooks to take the decision; and then, largely, because he left-hooked Bell himself into a 7-count knockout in the eleventh and almost committed manslaughter in the twelfth.

From that point, he seemed to feel that he need no longer give the master his undivided attention and, according to the 10-5 vote by two of the three officials, the young man's view was eminently reasonable. But that didn't alter the fact that, not a day too soon, had Harlem Ray Robinson, hailed these several years as the "uncrowned king," come into his royal estate.

Bratton and Jenkins Win

At Chicago—Johnnie Bratton, 133, Chicago, decimated Willie Joyce, 136, Gary, Ind., (10).

At Chicago—Lew Jenkins 138, Sweetwater, Tex. T. K. O'd. Nick Castiglione, 138½, Chicago (4).

Paris Trial Opens Tuesday

Hapes And Filchock To Testify Against Gambler Accused Of "Fix" Attempt

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—(INS)—The stage was set today for the trial of Alvin J. Paris, Broadway playboy accused of attempting to bribe two members of the N. Y. Giants football game to open on Tuesday.

General Sessions Judge Saul S. Streit set the trial date after hearing George P. Monaghan, assistant district attorney, explain that it would take the state more than two or three hours to present its case.

Paris is charged with attempting to bribe Merle Hapes, substitute fullback on the Giants, and Frank Filchock, Giant passing ace, to "throw" the championship game with the Chicago Bears last Sunday.

Both Hapes and Filchock were to testify against Paris, who is accused of offering them $3,500 each.

Question: "Was Bribe Offered?"

Caeser E. F. Barra, attorney for Paris, protested against setting the early trial date but Judge Streit ruled: "The case is as simple as any that has come before me in ten years. There is only one issue—did the defendant make an offer?"

Paris is being held without bail but Judge Streit said that his attorneys could visit him any time, day or night, for conferences. Paris was ordered held in the Tombs prison when police reported that he would be killed if allowed free on bail.

Stores Report

Heavy Buying In Last Days' Rush

Despite the early-in-the-season reluctance to buy heavily this year, many people have found enough of the things they want to cause local clerks and store managers to wonder if popular lines of merchandise will hold out.

Three out of four New Castle merchants questioned on this subject reported that the only thing which keeps this from being the biggest year in their history is the scarcity of some badly needed items, and the suspicion of many customers that "Better things are coming in."

On the whole, New Castle people have been buying with more freedom than at any time since before the war, the store managers report.

Park Properly, Hanna Requests

Do Not Drive Against Current Of Traffic; Use Chains To Prevent Skidding

Motorists today were requested by Police Chief Robert D. Hanna that, when parking their cars downtown that they park close to the curb in order to prevent a tie-up in traffic.

"When a motorist parks his car improperly and the head-end touches the curbs and the rear end protrudes diagonally into the street, it is apt to prevent a double flow of traffic and cause a tie-up," he said.

"Another violation I notice, is that some motorists sometimes drive against the current of traffic in order to save crossing the thoroughfare if they desire to enter a business house."

"This is doubly dangerous at night because the lights of such a car blind the vision of an on-coming operator and it is apt to result in an accident."

More G.I. Students Make Solo Flights

Among the new G.I. students sojourning at the Penn Aero Service, Inc., operators at the New Castle airport, are Clifford Alexander, 509 County Line street; George Alexander, 509 County Line street; Fred Mackey, Mercer, Pa.; James Mazzocco, 112 Sankey street, and Harold McDeavitt, 114 North Diamond street.

George Moses of East Long avenue has just completed his first cross country solo flight, which covered an area of 300 miles.

Flight operations at the airport have been hampered somewhat, due to inclement weather conditions.

ASK FOR HEALTH CARD, RIGBY SAYS

"Before the proprietor of any place selling beverages or meals permits anyone to go to work, he should ask them to show a card proving they have been examined as to their health at the city health bureau." George Rigby, a member of the city health department, advised today.

CHILD IN GREECE RECEIVES DOLL SENT BY WEST SIDE GIRL

At least one home in far off Greece will be brighter this Christmas through the gift of a West Side school student, Miss Janice Owrey of 305 McCleary avenue. In a letter received this week by Miss Owrey, from George Maca-rour, Oretiar, Thrace, Greece, aged four, the child thanked Miss Owrey for the gift of a doll that came through UNRRA to brighten the home of the Grecian child.

"This will be the only thing that I will get for Christmas," the child went on, "as I lost my father in the war and I have only my mother now. Thank you very much."

postage stamps was sent air mail and reached New Castle, Va., before arriving in New Castle.

NEW UNIFORMS GIVEN MARINES

U. S. Marines at the New Castle recruiting station received their newly authorized uniforms Friday. The jacket and pants streamline our servicemen in snappy clothing.

The dress blue uniform has only been slightly changed, four pockets being added to the blouse. Most vital change is the addition to the wardrobe of new "battle jackets", similar to those worn by the army. Matching trousers have been given hip pockets. The jacket and pants
